NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Stocks were under moderate pressure at the irregular opening of today's session, the death of Henry C. Frick, probably exerting a sentimental influence. Reactions among speculative shares extended from fractions to 2 points. The market rallied with the first half hour, however, on buying of standard rails, steels, motors and various other leaders. General Motors featured the rally at a five point gain.

Prominent New York Doctors Tell Why They Believe In PHOSPHATED IRON

They say it is the most valuable nerve-tonic strength and blood-builder any physician or hospital can use, often increasing the strength of delicate, nervous, run-down people 100% in two weeks' time.

Of great importance to the public generally should be the opinion of Dr. Joseph Ciaramelli, president, New York Specialist and Authority, formerly Staff Physician of The Hospital Incurabili, and Consultant to The Hospital Jesus Maria, Naples, Italy, who is accepted as an authority by

JOSEPH CIARAMELLI, M. D.
Formerly Staff Physician of The Hospital Incurabili and Consulting Physician to The Hospital Jesus Maria, both of Naples, Italy
European and American Medical Circles.

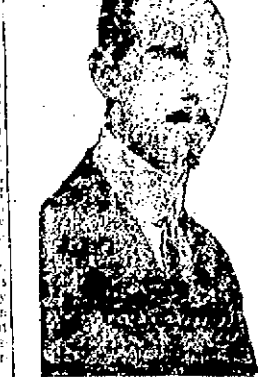

Dr. Ciaramelli in discussing the merits of this great blood-tonic says: "It is without hesitation, I recommend Phosphated Iron. If people would only take Phosphated Iron when they feel weak, nervous, and run-down instead of doing their selves with ineffective remedies, they would find that there are thousands who can quickly build up their red blood corpuscles, increase their strength and nerve energy, get on their feet, and look and feel 100% efficient. A great number of people suffer for lack of iron and phosphorus, but do not realize what is causing their delicate health. In my opinion, Phosphated Iron is the most valuable nerve-tonic, strength and blood-builder any physician can prescribe."

When a noted physician like Dr. Harlan Page, Authority on Diseases of the Blood and Nerves, formerly House Physician to The Metropolitan Hospital of New York, comes out frankly and publicly endorses Phosphated Iron, it must arouse the interest of every thinking person.

Dr. Page in speaking of Phosphated Iron says, "I have seen thousands of my patients absolutely convinced of the extraordinary value of Phosphated Iron as a tonic and health-builder. I have seen them, pale, nervous, run-down people, old and young, double their strength and increase in weight and after a few weeks' use of this splendid remedy, look and feel years younger. By enriching the blood and creating red blood cells, Phosphated Iron strengthens the nerves, rebuilds the weakened tissues and muscles, and instills new energy and vigor into the whole system. Every physician and hospital should prescribe Phosphated Iron."

Are you anemic, weak, nervous and listless? Then you owe it to

MISS DOLLY WISE

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly:
I am a young woman 23 years old. I have been married two years but my husband is an invalid. We have a little child and it is hard to keep a fire. I have written a novel but don't know where to send it to get a copy right. Does it cost anything? Do you know of any place where they buy books? I will be very much obliged for I am in need.

HOUSE WIFE
Write to the Short Story Syndicate, Chicago, Ill. Besides writing novels do some outside work if you can take the time from home as novelists don't always find success in the first throw.

My sister, "Gray Eyes," what care you the files I was running an advertising department for furniture stores. Watch the ads for your sister's simple remembrances. Since your fiance and you are to be married soon, why not get together on Christmas presents and give each other silver for the house. He give you silver for the table you give him silver for the dressing table, like military brushes, etc.

"Worried." I think you have the law on your side but prefer that you consult a lawyer about putting them out. You would have to have evidence and he can best advise you on that score.

Dear Dolly:
My friend and I are going to give his sister a wedding party and please tell us what we should do. How does one act as bridesmaid? D. H. M.

Why not give a wedding breakfast, dinner or luncheon at a hotel? It would be less trouble and not any more expensive than having it at home, unless you should do it all yourself.

As a bridesmaid you will have very little to do except stand by the bride, man and look pretty. If the bride carries a bouquet you should hold it for her during the ceremony. If she wears a corsage then that eliminates that service. You have nothing to say but you act as a final support for the friend who asks you.

Dear Miss Wise:
I am surely disgusted. I am 18 years old and seldom ever love a man.

I overheard a conversation between some girls. They said the boys were only like to be with pretty girls. This made me feel worse than ever, and so I decided to write to you.

I would just love to have three brown eyes that simply won't close, but I have a dull blue pair. Instead of black glossy hair, I have light red. What is still worse, I never know what to talk about to a boy, and if I happen to get a date with a boy, I am sure I will be a failure.

MORE THAN 1,500 TICKETS ALREADY SOLD FOR ELKS' CHARITY BALL; SUCCESS ASSURED

Some of the city's best musical talent has been engaged to furnish music for the memorable Charity Ball which will take place Friday night, December 5. In fact one of the features of the big event will be the music.

The Charity Ball is going to be the affair of the kind ever held in the city. This was the largest kind of a success. The Elks will not receive a single cent at a mass meeting held by the Portsmouth Lodge of B. P. O. Elks, penny of the proceeds, which will go last night. They are promoting the toward furnishing Christmas cheer for the needy and the disbursement of Christmas letters will be in the hands of a committee composed of Earl Purcell, Earl B. Cooke, Harry Williams, J. F. Davis and George A. Goodman.

At last night's enthusiastic meeting the sale of over 1,500 tickets was reported and this amount will be doubled before the dance starts Friday night. The Elks are real boosters and in the Elks' Hall, 7-11 1/2 St. are confident of making the Charity will be stationed in Bassman's Acol.

Ball the biggest and most successful day and Anderson's Orchestra will be in the Ben Hur hall. With these three orchestras, rendering inspiring music, these halls will no doubt be filled with dancers.

The Charity Ball is not a dress affair. You will not have to wear formal clothes to enjoy yourself. Simply will be the keynote of the epochal dance. Every arrangement has been made for your comfort and pleasure, and with three orchestras playing in three different halls next Friday night will be a memorable one in the annals of the Fraternity City.

If Distel sold it, it's good.

RYTHMIC OUTBURSTS OF DUKE

McDUKE FOR THE LAND OFFICE

I've strolled the streets up and down everywhere in Peerless Town trying earnestly to learn just why some people always spurn the thoughts of buying Real Estate through an agent; here of late. Most of those I interviewed with three objections were induced, the worst of which they'd mostly state: is that durned commission rate, fixed by the Portsmouth Realty Trust and charged by "curbers" with the crust to take advantage of the public's plight unfairly wrought by the Combine's fight, is in amount so unjust that they're overcome by real disgust when they hear the reasons why these agents charge a rate so high, for there is no argument, to justify their three per cent. That the cost of clothes and the food we chew is awful high is very true, but at the old live and let live fee, of two per cent they must agree: Agents earn more than in the past; for Real Estate now sells so fast—instead of a deal a week as in days of yore, live agents now make three and four; so figure this to your heart's content and you'll find you're fleeced of one per cent, by paying more than the old time rate, THE LAND OFFICE charges without debate.

And another reason some folks advance for giving agents so little chance to swing a Realty trade, relates to the silliness displayed when some agents proudly disclose, the property sold and the names of those, to whom the sale is made, and, worse, oftentimes, he price they paid; for there's scarcely anyone so drunk as to believe such foolish punk; few people want to see their names used to promote another's games. It looks so child-like to see the list, some agents now and then insist, is the names of those who bought or sold, a proverbial "brick of hollow gold," if we assume that the truth they tell about prices for which they buy and sell.

"These deals were made in the past few days," is often one of the boastful ways that Realty Dealer so and so tries, thru' the press his horn to blow, and striving to show where he shines, heads a list of deals with those tawdry lines, little dreaming that people know they were mostly made some months ago; and to prompt the writing of these funny rhymes, had long since appeared in The Portsmouth Times.

The LAND OFFICE could, most every week, publish longer lists that would loudly speak of the deals it makes day by day, but it looks so foolish and it doesn't pay.

And a reason other folks assign why dealing with Agents they decline is when some agents get a little tip that a renter's resolved his Landlord to ship, and thereupon is about to elect to enter the market as a Prospect for his ideal of a home to own, they simply will not leave him alone; for him here is no mental peace—the agent knows not when to cease chasing the poor prospect round and round tempting him with shacks and ground any old thing to make a deal without regard for the cully's weal until at last he thinks he'll die unless from the agent he consents to buy, disgusted and exhausted he stops for a rest, and assents to purchase to get rid of the pest, and with Realty agents he's done ever more for he thinks they're all the same sort of a bore. THE LAND OFFICE, though, will change his mind—can if through it he doesn't find his ideal of a home to own, he is very quickly let alone.

HELLUP! SHOATS AND PIG PEN ARE WIPE OUT BY BAD FIRE AT OTWAY

Pork went up by leaps and bounds last night to keep the hog and shoats from freezing and it is thought the containing a hog and eight fine shoats was destroyed by fire the occupants of the pen being burned along with the frame pen.

Ray Blackburn, owner of the shoats, was on the scene to fight the flames. The village chemical fire department also took a hand in putting out and kept the flames from spreading. Sparks fell some distance away on roofs but the frost covered shingles did not catch on fire.

Luckily no other buildings were close to the hog pen, Blackburn estimated his loss at about $100.

Mrs. Mary Zornes Praised Vol-Tonic For The Relief It Brought

Says Nervousness And Headaches Have Left Gladly Recommends The "Builder Of Strength" To Other Weakened People

"I am mighty glad Vol-Tonic came to Portsmouth because it has brought me relief beyond description," said Mrs. Mary Zornes of 735 Eighth street, this city.

"I was weak and nervous and had headaches often. Vol-Tonic has built me up so that I feel a great deal stronger. The nervousness also has disappeared since I started taking Vol-Tonic and the headaches are about gone."

"Vol-Tonic also helped my grandson, Edward Kuebel. He had headaches and was very nervous. Since taking Vol-Tonic the headaches have disappeared entirely and his nervousness has been greatly relieved."

"I am glad to recommend Vol-Tonic to anybody who is weak and nervous because I have found it an excellent 'Builder of Strength'."

Good appetite, good digestion, good blood, good nerves, if you have these four things you are strong. Vol-Tonic brings these four things and thus builds up new strength and better health.

Vol-Tonic is being personally explained to the public at Fisher & Streich's drug store where many local people are calling daily to ask about the "Builder of Strength."

indications were this afternoon that the jury would get the Maddy case much sooner than expected as all the evidence was in by two o'clock this afternoon and a number of witnesses were dismissed. After the witnesses were given to the jury and at present time Attorney Sheppard ended the argument for the state.

When Judge Thomas adjourned common pleas court yesterday afternoon the state had practically concluded its evidence in chief in the case of Thomas Maddy, larceny, township of Otway, on trial on a charge of second degree murder for the killing of V. E. Thompson, merchant and postmaster at Otway, on August 18, last.

The testimony offered by the state was confined principally to showing admissions by the accused of firing the shot, medical testimony of one of the two wounds received by the victim caused his death and alleged threats made by the defendant prior to the shooting.

Dr. J. E. Gordon, of Otway, was the first witness called and he described the wounds received by Thompson, one in the right arm just below the elbow and the other in the right hip the latter wound causing death by reason of the bullet perforating the intestines.

The evidence of Coroner J. D. Hendrickson and Dr. S. S. Halderman did not vary from that of Dr. Gordon.

Sheriff R. E. Hickey, and Deputy Harry Immanuel told of the accused admitting the shooting at the time of his arrest a short time after the shooting. The weapon from which the shot was fired was brought into court by the sheriff.

Alva Thatcher and his two sons, Russell and Nelson, who were at work in a field nearby on the day of the shooting, told of hearing the shot fired. Although their testimony conflicted as to the number, they took the wounded man to his home on a horse.

T. W. Thatcher related of hearing Maddy make threats against Thompson prior to the shooting. He stated that one day while working with the defendant during harvest, Maddy declared when he saw Thompson coming, "I always get nervous when that man comes around—I've got a SS that'll fix him."

The witness said he afterwards warned Thompson that he had better let Maddy alone or he'd get hurt, and to which Thompson replied, "he's too big a coward to do anything like that," the witness said.

On cross examination Thatcher said that he had observed on numerous occasions that Maddy became nervous and agitated when Thompson came about where the defendant was, and that it affected Maddy's ability to work. The witness admitted that if Maddy was on one of these occasions that Maddy made the remark about having a pistol and that it would fix Thompson. He further stated that he had heard Thompson curse and abuse the defendant, and he was of the opinion that Maddy always submitted to such treatment too easily.

George Bradbury, farmer at Otway,

related a conversation he claimed to have had with the defendant shortly after the shooting in which Maddy made the statement that "Thompson came into the tobacco field angry and began to abuse me about the condition of the crop and that Mrs. Maddy promptly ordered him to leave and threw a rock at Thompson—the latter replied, 'I don't have to,' at the same time hurling a rock back at Mrs. Maddy declaring then, 'I'll kill all of you,' and made a move toward his hip pocket as to draw a weapon and I then fired two shots at him."

Will Hold Bazaar

A new England lunch and bazaar will be given by the members of the Women's Benefit Association of the Mercantile tonight in their hall, Sixth and Chillicothe streets. Supper will be served from 5 until 8 o'clock, after which dancing will be enjoyed, with Mrs. Catherine Porter presiding at the piano. The social good time this evening will take the place of the usual meeting of the Ladies of Maccabees.

WHEN YOU BUY RED CROSS SEALS YOU ARE AIDING FIGHT ON WHITE PLAGUE

Red Cross Christmas Seals now on sale are more than decorative stamps. They mean freedom from the white plague for thousands of people; they represent the humanity of people following the golden rule.

The following proclamation has been issued by Rupert Rine, surgeon-general, United States Public Health Service:

"Over one hundred and fifty thousand Americans die annually from tuberculosis. This is an appalling waste of life when we consider that tuberculosis is classed as a preventable disease. Moreover, because this loss of life occurs almost entirely in the ranks of the young adult population, health authorities the world over have come to consider the control of tuberculosis as still the most pressing health problem confronting them. Every year the National Tuberculosis Association by selling Red Cross Christmas Seals raises a considerable sum of money to be used in a nation-wide campaign to combat tuberculosis. This year a special effort is being made to interest school children in this work and Red Cross Christmas Seals, which have been dedicated as days on which the Service, Red Cross Home Service, Scouts, and in the public schools, synagogues and churches, the

Have Pretty Teeth

All Statements Approved by High Dental Authorities

Free A 10-Day Tube of Pepsodent, to show you how to end film. See below.

Look in the Glass

Look at your teeth in the glass. Then brush them in this new way for ten days and look again.

There is a film on your teeth—a slimy film. It clings to the teeth, enters crevices and stays. The toothbrush does not end it. The ordinary tooth paste does not dissolve it. So it stays between the teeth and elsewhere and may do a ceaseless damage.

That film is what discolors—not the teeth. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Thus most tooth troubles are now traced to film.

Dental science, after years of searching, has found a way to combat it. Able authorities have proved it by many careful tests. Now the method is embodied in a dentifrice called Pepsodent, and leading dentists everywhere are urging its daily use.

A 10-Day Tube is now supplied to everyone who asks. Test it and see what it means to you.

Behind the Balance Sheet

The investor in the new issue (see below) of Hydraulic Steel Preferred has his interests protected to an unusual degree.

One phase of protection that does not show, as such, in the balance-sheet, is the company's satisfactory position in relation to labor.

For a quick picture of this, take the recent strike vote: the company's employees voted against striking at the rate of, roughly, 200 to 1. In one plant six men voted to quit, and 1194 to stay at work.

Free Drift Wood

Between the wharf and the York Park there is a large amount of drift wood which in view of the pending cold weather will come in handy for anyone who gets it as the wood is free to anyone.

High winds on the river Saturday and Sunday threw the drift wood against the shore.

There is more good drift wood there now than has been for some time.

Critical Political Situation In Germany In 1917 Precipitated By Downfall Of Russian Autocracy And Jealousy Within The Empire

By GEN. FRICH LUEDENDORFF

On November 21, 1916, the Emperor Franz Josef passed to his long rest. The cohesion of the peoples of the double monarchy had depended on him. He had not, it is true, succeeded in giving new life to the monarchy, for the advisers whom he chose were not strong enough for the task. He was a loyal friend of the alliance, even if he never forgot 1866, when Prussia and Austria fought for hegemony in Germany. (By this campaign Prussia gained the leadership of the German states and paved the way for the war with France and the formation of the German Empire.)

At the beginning of April 1916, the fiftieth anniversary of Field Marshal von Hindenburg's entry into the service was celebrated at Vienna. I made a short speech on that occasion, and I should like to mention, without adding any comment, that the Field Marshal, in the first year of his service, had taken part in the campaign of 1845.

My speech had hardly been reported when I received a letter from Field Marshal von Hindenburg, to the effect that offense had been caused in Vienna by my reference to the campaign of 1866. He begged me to prevent it being reported, but that was already impossible.

I was as much surprised by the attitude of the Vienna court as by the letter from Berlin. The 1866 campaign, it appears, had left a deep and permanent impression on the Emperor Franz Josef. In that campaign he had lost confidence in his army, and he never fully regained it, although he worked hard for it and held high the old traditions of his imperial force.

His death was an irreparable loss to us.

The murdered heir, the Archduke Francis Ferdinand (whose assassination at Sarajevo was made the excuse for the ultimatum to Serbia which caused the war), was not the man of whom he was commonly held to be. Indeed, he was a usually vacillating and irresolute, and by no means friendly to Germany. Our Emperor made great efforts to turn the Archduke and his wife to a friendly attitude to us. His death was a tragedy, and its results disastrous; they have brought about for Austria, after four years of war, the fate that Russia, the great author of the tragedy, intended for herself. Russia has ruled herself in the process.

The murdered heir would not have been the man to have taken over the guidance of the double monarchy after the death of the aged Emperor; the republican tendencies had grown up among him. His death was a tragedy, and its results disastrous; they have brought about for Austria, after four years of war, the fate that Russia, the great author of the tragedy, intended for herself. Russia has ruled herself in the process.

Reverend Pardon of Czechs. I first saw the Emperor Charles in December, 1914, as Archduke. He gave the strong impression of youthfulness. At the beginning of November, 1916, I saw him again. He had grown up and became more manly and spoke well on military subjects. The burden of his new and high position was, however, to become too heavy for him. Anxiously grew on him the heavy task of ruling over so many peoples in so many matters. He was conscious of the internal political difficulties of the double monarchy, and had plans for a league of the peoples.

General von Conrad, is that from the personal point of view I saw this great general leave his office with unaltered regret. My relations with General von Arz were, however, to become even more intimate. He was a confirmed friend of the German Empire and the German army.

During the summer campaign of 1915 he had commanded the 6th Austro-Hungarian army corps as part of the 11th Army and in close co-operation with German troops had led it with such ability as to earn for himself and his corps the highest German regard. As commander of the 1st Army in Transylvania he achieved everything that was humanly possible with the material at his disposal.

General von Arz retired as his director of operations General von Waldstein, a capable and ambitious officer, who earned the confidence of the chief of the army.

Good liaison and cooperation between ourselves and the Austrian headquarters was thus a certainty for the future.

DRASTIC REGULATIONS IN FORCE; PEOPLE ASKED TO AID IN FIGHT

MOST EXTENSIVE SHUT-DOWN OF INDUSTRY IN THE HISTORY OF COUNTRY IN PROSPECT

DO NOT BE STAMPERED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Attorney General Palmer called upon the American people today to "refuse to be stamped by threats of lack of coal into concessions which will insure unreasonably high prices in all commodities for at least three years to come."

A statement of the government's attitude was made by the attorney-general in a telegram to the chamber of commerce at Albany, N.Y., from which had come a request that another conference of operators and miners be called.

Mr. Palmer opposed further conferences, saying the wage increase proposed by Dr. Farnold equalled the average miner's wages with the present high cost of living without increasing the price of coal. "This," he said, "was fair to the miners and protected the public."

"The cost of living is now at the high point," Mr. Palmer said. "To grant the demands of the miners would mean the cost of living still higher. The new wage conference would run three winters and, therefore, would maintain a higher cost of living for substantially three years. Such a situation can not be tolerated."

SHE HELPS COUNTRY THWART TEA FRAUD

Dr. Alberta Read in her laboratory.

Dr. Alberta Read of the U. S. department of chemistry has become known as the nation's foremost expert on tea. Recently imported to make their tea appear more attractive, colored the green product highly with chemicals, none of which was good for the human system. They were doing a big business in their particular brand, till Dr. Read got on the job. The test she perfected is now in universal use. She also has revealed that black pepper for household use frequently is mixed with ground-up seeds and other foreign matter.

BILL TO PROTECT THE U. S. AGAINST RADICALS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Declaring the time had come when "the federal government must take steps to protect itself and the governments of the several states from persons and organizations advocating crime and violence as a means of bringing about a new social, industrial or political order," Representative Kelly, Republican, Michigan, introduced a bill today defining "criminal syndicalism" and making it a felony to advocate it.

Under his measure "criminal syndicalism" is "the doctrine which advocates crime, sabotage, violence or any method of terrorism for the overthrow of a republican form of government as a means of accomplishing industrial, economic, social or political reform."

Aliens advocating it would be ordered deported, and persons of foreign birth, who had become naturalized, would lose their American citizenship and also be deported. Attacks of radicals on state governments, as well as the federal government, would be punishable under the measure.

TAXATION TO HAVE RIGHT OF WAY IN LEGISLATURE

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 2.—Taxation is to have the right of way in the present legislative session, with prohibition legislation taking second place. The graduated automobile tax bill was introduced at the opening session Monday evening and referred back to the taxation committee for some slight amendments before it is put up for passage.

The proposed income tax law may be introduced Tuesday. It is expected to meet with strenuous opposition, and no attempt may be made to pass it until later in the session.

Temperance forces in the house have indicated a willingness to confer with liberals in the drafting of a measure for the enforcement of state-wide prohibition. Representative C. C. Crable, chairman of the house temperance committee, has suggested the naming of a committee of three days and three weeks to try and agree on a prohibition enforcement bill that will be patterned somewhat after the Volstead federal prohibition act.

Senator Miller, chairman of the senate finance committee, declared he was ready to introduce a prohibition enforcement bill fashioned after the federal act and placing the power of enforcement in the hands of an assistant, to be appointed by the attorney-general.

G. O. P. Has Proposal

There is a third prohibition enforcement proposal originating with the Republican state advisory committee and members of the assembly, which simply provides for a simple prohibition enforcement fixing penalties for violating the state prohibition amendment, without attempting to define intoxicating liquors and creating no new machinery for its enforcement. This group takes the position that enforcement of prohibition may be left to the federal authorities and that the legislature should not be detained here longer than necessary to parlay over prohibition enforcement legislation.

The joint taxation committee, meeting Monday night, discussed proposals for granting by the state tax commission larger appropriations to enable the commission to strengthen its machinery for getting more property on record providing this bill as it now the tax duplicate. Present laws on statute books are said to be adequate for this purpose if sufficient appropriations are given the tax commission to supervise local taxing officials.

No Appraisal Since 1910

In more than half the counties of the state there has been no appraisal of real estate since 1910, although lands have risen in value in many instances. A reappraisal by local county appraisers of land values, taxes will help to solve present financial difficulties of the various taxing districts.

Members of the joint taxation committee said they knew nothing about a bill introduced Monday night by Representative Hoover, of Wayne county, proposing to give the tax commission power to compel banks to disclose lists of depositors for the purpose of taxation.

That the new Hughes health code, which is scheduled to take effect January 1, is likely to be repealed unless powers conferred on local health districts are curtailed, is the opinion of those who have sounded out sentiment of members on the bill. Local county authorities have complained that the difficulty for getting more property on record providing this bill as it now the tax duplicate. Present laws on statute books are said to be adequate for this purpose if sufficient appropriations are given the tax commission to supervise local taxing officials.

DEADLY VENGEANCE TAKEN BY VILLA FOR THE DEATH OF GEN. FELIPE ANGELES

EL PASO, TEXAS, Dec. 2.—General Santa Sanchez, commander of the 68th regiment of Mexican federal troops, today was still reported missing and was believed to have been killed with 673 men of his command of 675, with whom he had boasted that he would "get" Francisco Villa, when that bandit chief, with 1,000 followers in revenge for the execution of General Felipe Angeles, swept down on the federalists at Rancho Espino and massacred them.

Only two officers escaped Villa's vengeance, according to the report brought here by Dr. L. M. Gomez, of El Paso and Los Angeles, former Army aviator. He said he overheard the two officers, Colonel Nixas and Lieutenant Colonel Marquez, relate the story of the annihilation of the federal command to a mutual friend in Santa Rosalia.

Chiefs, rifles and knives accounted for most of the command, according to the story, after 150 federalists fell at the first surprise volley. Many others were shot down as they fled. The Villistas fought with the fury of mad men, the officers who escaped said. The attack began at six o'clock in the morning, about 24 hours after Angeles was executed.

Villa's threats of revenge for the death of his former aide were known to federal authorities below the border, but the surprise of the 68th regiment was said to have been complete.

AGAIN THE LAGGARD TRUTH

DURING the war, especially shortly after the establishment of the training camps, our soldiers were shocked and appalled by the laggardism of the extreme and deadly means taken to enforce discipline. From them one could see half the path of the land marching to military graves long before they reached the enemy.

Common sense, quickly asserting itself, realized that were the title tales of the magisterial and the ignorant passing from tongue to tongue and gaining new horrors with each retelling.

That they hadn't so much as an iota of truth in them, nothing could give them a color the existence, is shown in the recent report of General Black Crowder, judge advocate general, through whose office went all the proceedings in such matters and especially in charge of court martials. This report not only shows how carefully America conducted the organization of an army, but also, later to the soldier boys, showing how handsomely they behaved themselves in training and under arms. From April the 6th, 1917, the date war was declared to June 30th, 1919, only 115 death penalties were fixed for army crimes. In only thirty-five of these was the extreme penalty carried out. Everyone of the executions was for crimes that involved murder. Not one soldier was shot because of a crime recognized solely by military law.

Taking into consideration that the period embraced by the report is two years and three months and the discipline of over four million men was included this is a most remarkable showing. Doubtless it is the first time that so few death penalties were imposed in a campaign of long duration and it is certainly the first time that in a vast army there were no executions because of military breaches. An army must have discipline. According to just and usage to secure that discipline it is necessary to put some men to death.

THE SAVING GRACE

IT is said half a man's troubles will disappear if he only smiles at them. If that be true then when a man laughs heartily over them they ought all to vanish, at least that's reasonable logic.

So having had our laugh at the news point situation, we ought not to be bothered from that source any more anyway, and the new ones that arise we should have sense enough to tell to the policeman, instead of you, as we have been doing about this paper time.

Oh, yes, the laugh. It came all out in this way. We were securing a national weekly, with a circulation running up into the hundreds of thousands and no advertising patronage to speak of. Our attention was concentrated on an article dealing with the high cost of white paper and after a harrowing detail of how the product was climbing higher than one of these new Liberty motors every day, it impressed and nonplussed us by the conclusion that it was now the only one cent paper in the country and there it meant to stay.

Turning over the editorial column we saw another article on the all absorbing question and we read that too, being astounded and amused to find that by the conclusion that hereafter the subscription price of the paper would be just double the figure it had and on the first page would never be changed.

That may strike you, too, as comical, but it is really more tragic. You see it takes several days to print the paper, which is run off in sections, the first page being run off first and the editorial last, between these two printing more paper had to be bought and that brought the publisher face to face with this dilemma—bankruptcy, or a raise in the subscription rate. He wisely chose the latter.

The warren of the Ohio penitentiary, who thinks crime and imprisonment are a theory and not a condition, says no convict wearing a soldier's garb shall be allowed to disgrace his uniform by entering the institution wearing it. Bureaucracy. The Cincinnati Enquirer gets at the core of it by saying a uniform can be disgraced, but the soldier disgraces it when he commits the crime and having done thereafter affects its status one way or the other.

Lady Nancy Astor, who was elected to the house of commons in England, showed her real American breeding by claiming before the votes were counted a majority four times greater than she got. But what's the difference. The rule is to claim everything and rejoice and be glad if you win by so much as the skin of the teal.

The people of the United States were swindled out of five hundred million dollars this year, by investment in wild oil schemes and for the most part of it let on their perfectly good government bonds.

MORE OF THE TROUBLE BREEDERS

WE all had troubles with our automobiles. The worst is yet in store for a lot of us, those who made no income tax return, among which motorists we are happy to know we are not one.

Incidentally the government means to settle the matter as to whether a married man with an income of less than $2,000, or an unmarried one with wages of less than $1,000 per year can own and navigate an automobile, an interesting one to be sure.

There are millions of persons to whom the problem will be presented and they will have to solve it satisfactorily, or otherwise go to jail.

There are in the United States, or were on the first day of Jan. 1, 1919, 6,254,224 machines chugging and sending about over the land. Out of this imposing aggregate only 2,116,265 had owners who made income tax reports. That was one-third. Here in Ohio the showing wasn't even so good. Persons applying for automobile licenses numbered 468,205 this year, increased to over 500,000—and of these but 89,100, or one fifth, made the required income return. The remainder will have to show why not.

Cincinnati is putting on a chamber of commerce drive for 2,500 members. Had an idea that there was more than two fifths larger than the Peerless.

The farmers' alliance has declared for a graduated automobile tax or license, whatever you may call it, which the thought that is because farmers generally own the Peerless.

Not much of a defense of those Michigan boys that they are no worse than other political organizations have been. Nothing in the pot calling the kettle black.

Think of it, Christmas scarce three weeks away and that present not determined on yet, to say nothing of being unthought of.

They can have their eighty miles wind on the prairies. We prefer bills that slow 'em up and shut 'em off.

Could a setting more fitting be conceived than holding an underwriters' convention in the dead barroom of the Desider hotel?

And among other afflictions the state legislature convened today.

SHE MARRIED AN AVERAGE MAN

What did I write last? Oh, yes, men depend upon their object, about Eric Sunds putting his apartment. Some women would rather have the question, "Do you love your husband?" depends upon their own than the answer to the question, "Do you love your husband?"

Before I reply to Eric's query I must say, I am open to the sort who does not know my own heart and the sort of man I want. I want a man who is not a trouble maker, but a man who is a help. I want a man who is not a trouble maker, but a man who is a help. I want a man who is not a trouble maker, but a man who is a help.

Love is such a misused word. There is no such thing as love. There is only a confused, with twenty become twenty. There is where the pride, ambition, passion, curiosity and a hundred of other comes in. In all men a hundred other emotions that crowd things. Is the wife or husband going to be a girl without without her real life, her own life, her own life, her own life.

That was the way I married. Yet, and a deeper thrill from a friend, for we were both young. We did the best we could. We did the best we could. We did the best we could. We did the best we could. We did the best we could. We did the best we could.

The British government bestowed on him the orders of St. Michael and St. George and made him a Commander of the Bath. The British Empire awarded him a Baron in 1907.

At the start of the recent war, unwilling to desert the British or to take arms against the country of his birth, he resigned his appointments in Egypt and returned to Austria. The Austrian government needed his services and induced him to accept an appointment in the army command. Then he resumed his English decorations. Austria sent him to Paris as one of the peace delegation from Vienna. In this capacity he made a most favorable impression among the representatives of the allies.

THREE'S A CROWD!

New - York - Day - By - Day

BY
O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—There are many strange things to see in New York. For instance, the laws went zipping up Broadway from 41st to the Circle the other day that at 41st clock one might secure a famous brand of Scotch for 75 cents a drink. And surely enough the place—a barroom—was jammed. No one was refused and the Scotch was the genuine article. At six the sales were stopped.

Why? No one seemed to know. No body feared the revenue agents or the police for the hour. Two or three times a week the Teatrolin is bringing with these tips and as a result patrons who used to take a drink a day get artificially excited once, twice or even three times a week. Why certain days in one seems to understand that that is the way it is worked. Away up in Harlem there is still another place where, the rumors go, one may get beer of pure than the anemic 2.25 per cent.

So it is that the man who really need really knows his New York is in need of a drink. He may pilot a yacht from old fashioned beer places to those ornate 11th floor apartments on sober streets where champagne is open.

Mr. "Bimby" Montague, editorial writer for the Illustrated News in New York resigned the other day. The next day the News began advertising for a new editorial writer. Says the only "Our editorial writer has resigned and on account of the war and immigration laws editorial writers are hard to get this year and terribly independent. There was a time when help of this kind was paid at 25 a week and did all their work contentedly in a little room under the stairs between the third and fourth floors. But those days are gone forever. May the gods show this speed I into the hands of the man we are looking for. Address W. H. Field, The News, 25 City Hall Place, New York City."

Wrong Phrase
"Well, maybe I'm not good looking, but I dress out of sight."

"That's the proper place to dress."

High-grade shoes will have to carry the weight of the burden. One of the shoes-selling in Boston last September for $12 a pair is being exhibited taken at $15 a pair today, and dealers declare that the retail price this fall next September will be $18 a pair.

Shut-Down Is Suggested

It has come to such a pass here that the dealers do not hesitate to express the opinion that a complete shut-out of the shoe factories for a while would not be inimical to the trade, but on the other hand serve to start the exporters of cost, give labor a chance to ponder over the whole economic condition, and allow leather to moderate sufficiently to induce makers to soften the prices of raw material a little.

United manufacturers are sincerely to cope with the situation. They cannot get the leather and they can make the shoes, but the market is gone. Their production has fallen off 50 per cent without as yet getting shade of shade on the market. They have enough on hand to supply the demand and say the public would suffer from a complete discontinuance of production for a while.
